

Summer-Camp 2009

from 17th to 24th August 2009

At

Villaggio Verde - Cavallirio-Novara- Italy

with

Manitonquat (Medicine Story)

& Ellika Linden

What it is?

“I dreamed of a place where people come together as the tribes did every summer for a week or two. Where they come together in mutual respect and equality. Where they may come closer to old friends and relatives and make new ones. Where they open their hearts and listen to one another, share their stories, their struggles, their losses and triumphs, their hopes and their fears, and find understanding and support. Where they may play and work and create and have fun together. Where families and solitary people all become one family in a tribal village to experience how our ancestors pursued the good life in sharing and cooperation.”

From : “Summer-Camp, Changing the World” By Manitonquat
